

Neighborhoods OF St. Louis

No matter your mood, food vibe or idea of fun, there is a St. Louis neighborhood that has what you're looking for. Visit all. Every day is a new adventure in the Gateway City.

MARYLAND HEIGHTS

The backyard everyone craves: row, golf, hike, swing from the treetops on zip lines, kayak, sail, paddleboard, gamble and more. Whew!

CLAYTON

A chic community with a bustling downtown sporting galleries, boutiques and shaded parks, plus food and drink for all tastes. And one giant fall art fair.

CHESTERFIELD VALLEY

More than 120 shops, thousands of butterflies and a really cool carousel.

KIRKWOOD

Historic railroad commuter town with a farmers' market, boutiques, a working train station and plenty of food and libation hotspots, all walkable.

EUREKA

Just 20 miles west of downtown and often referred to as the Gateway to the Missouri Ozarks because of its rolling hills...and roller coasters.

THE LOOP / UNIVERSITY CITY

Tour this iconic street, with its fabulous food, music, neon signs and even a 3,000-pound rooftop moon.

MAPLEWOOD

As locals say, "somewhere between Mayberry and Metropolis is Maplewood," where an old-style vibe jives with one that is truly hip.

WEBSTER GROVES

Hundred-year-old houses on shady tree-lined streets surround the active downtown street scene filled with jazz festivals, cool restaurants and unique shops.

THE HILL

An intimate Italian neighborhood where bocce ball, family-owned delis, trattorias, and pizzerias rule.

CARONDELET

A 250-year-old neighborhood settled by French explorers, with an added touch of quirkiness.

THE VILLE

This neighborhood is steeped in a rich history and gave birth to people who influenced life far outside its borders: Chuck Berry, Josephine Baker, Sonny Liston and Dick Gregory.

CENTRAL WEST END

Street-side patios, antique stores, one epic bookstore, cocktail bars and a World Record-size chess piece, all about the city's crown jewel, Forest Park.

THE GROVE

From tattoo artists and brewers to LGBTQ hotspots and global eats, everyone's flag flies here.

SOUTH GRAND

Experience the globe within six blocks—a nourishing mix of a world cultures, just minutes from downtown St. Louis.

CHEROKEE STREET & CHEROKEE ANTIQUE ROW

Art spaces and blank spaces are canvasses for the artists who fully embrace the vibe and Mexican flavor of this beatnik bastion.

NORTH ST. LOUIS COUNTY

Experience the beauty French colonists in the late 1700s discovered at the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. Hike, bike and photograph it.

GRAND CENTER ARTS DISTRICT

Dive into art, music, theater and beyond in this cultural epicenter for the arts.

CORTEX

Doers, changemakers and techies create the pulsating vibe that makes up this centrally-located innovation hub.

LAFAYETTE SQUARE

Go color crazy over the painted 19th century homes, restaurants and shops nestled around a lushly landscaped, swan-filled park.

SOULARD

Hip, historic neighborhood with the sights and sounds of one of the oldest farmers markets west of the Mississippi, and hoppy aromas of one big brewery.

LACLEDE'S LANDING

Exciting day and nightlife on the cobblestone streets in the shadow of the iconic Arch.

DOWNTOWN

Play at City Museum and the aquarium, cheer at the ballpark, sway to live blues, watch the river roll, satiate hunger pangs at the restaurants and bars between.